TRADE MARK.

Sixteen Years of Successful Use

In Virginia and North Carolina

The demand for Fine Tobacco always has been greater than the supply, and is likely to continue so. The Quality of the crop and the price obtained for it are dependent, in a great degree, upon the suitability of the Fertilizer used on it; and planters cannot be too particular in inquiring into the reputation of the Fertilizer they are solicited to buy, and the qualifications of the parties manufacturing it.

These old and thoroughly reliable Tobacco Fertilizers have been in use by the planters of Virginia and North Carolina for Sixteen Years, and we now again offer them to all who want thoroughly trustworthy fertilizers, with the assurance that their value is unimpaired, that their High Standard is fully maintained, and what goes out this year is equal in all respects to any heretofore sent out, and may be used with entire confidence by every planter who desires to get the best possible Fertilizer for Tobacco.

We Purchased Our Ammoniates

TIME TO COMMENCE.

T. J. Womble, the Hardware Man Will Fix You Out.

Does your house need paint? Have you commenced to clean up the waste places which the accumulations of winter have rendered unsightly; have you lit the bonfire and entered upon the grand business of a spring cleaning and making garden? If you have not there is no time to be lost. Do not let the weeds and the cockroaches get ahead of you but commence at once.

You are putting things off perhaps because you lack tools necessary to work with. This is no excuse, you have only to make a list of what you want and send to T. J. Womble, the well known hardware man of this city who will supply all your needs in the matter of farming implements and house cleaning apparatus. This firm keeps a full line of paints and oils the very best brands, garden tools and everything in the general hardware line. They sell the well known Iron King and Cotton King cook stoves and ranges, all sizes, ranging in price from $10 to $40; hanging and table lamps, handsome and beautiful all styles, and prices; china and glass ware, cutlery etc.

Mr. Womble has been in Durham nine years, during which time he has made a reputation for honest goods and square dealing which has caused his trade to grow with the years, making him to day one of the most solid and prosperous business men of the town. Those in need of anything in the hardware line will find it to their interest to see him.

DURHAM SHOULD HAVE ONE.

A Saving Bank Would Be a Good Thing in This Town.

The report of the saving bank commissioners of Massachusetts shows that there is now a savings bank account for one of every two persons in that commonwealth and this showing should teach a lesson. It proves that the habit of saving a dime here or a dollar there will not only grow upon individuals but upon communities. Young men and young women throw away many dollars each year—foolishly and thoughtlessly. A young man need not become penurious—he need not grow miserly to have at the end of a few years a good bank account. To deposit small sums is a habit—it grows on those who start and this habit influences others. When we stop to consider that every other person in a state as large as Massachusetts has a savings account, and compares it with the number of persons in North Carolina who enjoy such a luxury, a surprise awaits us. In Massachusetts every little town has one or more of these institutions.

THEY WOULD MEET.

Miss Clara Slimson—My milliner was at church today.

Mr. Slimson—Why didn't you point her out?

Clara—You'll have a chance to know her, papa, before the week is out.

EASTER NESTS.

German children probably enjoy Easter more than those of other nations, because for them the element of mystery that adds so much zest to the pleasure of the Christmas stocking is brought into play. Nests of tinsel, artificial flowers or some other attractive material are filled with eggs, candies, cakes or other goodies and hidden away for the children to search for. These nests are generally surmounted by a rabbit made of candy, cake or any of a hundred materials dictated by the ingenuity of loving parents. The Easter rabbit is a very old German institution and probably a survival of the heathen days when the hare was sacred to Eostre, the goddess of spring.

THE CZAR'S EASTER.

The czar kisses the cheeks of his courtiers, and they in return kiss his majesty's shoulder as being a little less familiar salute. Everybody kisses the hand of the czarina, and she kisses her relatives and friends on the cheek in return, and then every man, woman, priest and child present kiss one another, exclaiming between the smacks, "Christ is risen!" "He is risen, indeed!"

KICKING FOR THEIR LIVING.

In Buckinghamshire a village charity was granted on condition that "the inhabitants every Easter play one or more games of ball." Accordingly every year 12 old women—the beneficiaries—are obliged to kick a football about the village green for a time long enough to preserve the charity intact.

ORIGIN OF EASTER.

Easter is said to be older than Christianity. The name by which we know the day is identical with that of the ancient Saxon goddess of spring, Eostre. The early missionaries gave a Christian meaning to the observance of the day, but it has retained its ancient name.

A WOMAN'S GLORY.

It is Not Alone in Her Hair But On Her Head.

If it be true that in the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, it is equally true that with the violets come to every woman, no matter what her condition or circumstances, dreams of the airy and beautiful, in female attire—of crisp ribbons and airy laces; of tints and tones outrivalling nature itself, suggestive of beauty and grace born only of culture and refinement, and which no where displays itself more effectively than in the dress of the wearer.

It is universally conceded that the most important and essential feature in a becoming toilet is what is worn on the head. Forming as it does a setting for the face it is to the countenance what the frame is to the picture—it must be just the thing and nothing else.

To achieve this triumph requires an appreciation of colors and effects, with a practical knowledge of combinations which is to be gained only by long experience and constant practice. Realizing this fact Miss Mary Hinton, late of the firm of Hinton & Crockett but now of the new firm of Mrs. Bettie L. Lea & Co., has just returned from Baltimore, where she has spent several weeks in the work rooms of Armstrong Cater & Co., and other leading wholesale millinery houses, and where she has made a special study of the latest spring styles. Miss Hinton has been in the business since she was old enough to handle a needle, having been raised and educated in a millinery store. She is up in all details and has made a reputation as an artistic and successful trimmer.

Mrs. Bettie L. Lea, the new member of the new firm, is well known in this city as a lady of exceptional taste as a dressmaker, from which she steps into millinery as readily and as naturally as if she had never done anything but handle plumes and flowers. Together they make a strong team, and THE GLOBE predicts for the new firm great success.

TOBACCO TALK.

Rev. Alex Walker Gives His Views on the Tobacco Market.

The receipts of leaf tobacco for the past week have been fairly good, requiring till the middle of the afternoon to get around. Some very fine wrappers were sold during the week at good prices. We notice some wrappers of as fine quality as you find in any crop. All grades were well up to former prices, common fillers were not so eagerly sought after, but at the same time there was no change in the price worthy of note. We just about express it when we say, that former prices have been well sustained through the week. It may be well to state that one or two days certain grades were strained a fraction higher than they had been but there was not real cause for this, we therefore did not regard it as an advance of the market but nervousness in the buyers.

RAILROAD RATES TO THE FAIR.

The Presidents of the Chicago Roads Reach an Agreement.

The presidents of all the Chicago roads have met and settled on the World's fair rates. The matter was ostensibly left in the hands of a special committee of the Western Passenger Agent's association, which is to report at the meeting of the association on Monday, but the presidents took matters into their own hands, settled the rates, and will hand their conclusions over to the passenger agents, who will approve them, and they will then be formally adopted as regular rates to the exposition.

It is not definitely known just what rate will be accepted, but it will either be one and one third or one and one half, with the probabilities in favor of the former. The presidents have been compelled to take the question into their own hands because of the impending danger of a general demoralization of passenger rates, which would have been the legitimate outcome of a delayed decision on the subject. Many of the roads were quietly preparing to handle excursions at their own figures, and it would have been only a short time before there would have been a general scramble for business, which the presidents were afraid would bring rates too low for profits.

My wife cured of malaria by Simmons Liver Regulator.—J. N. Thompson, pastor M. E. church, Leigh, Neb.

During the month of February I bought one bottle of B. B. B. for my four-year old boy, who had what doctors term hereditary blood poison, and to my utter astonishment one bottle cured him. In February, my elder son, twelve years of age, was literally covered with ugly sores on his legs and a terrible eruption on his head. He was cured with two bottles of B. B. B. As a quick blood cleanser it has no equal.

For several years I have been suffering from a constitutional blood poison, which has resisted the treatment of our best physicians, and the use of the most noted medicines. I was covered with a copper-colored eruption all over my body and limbs, with loss of appetite, excruciating in my back, aching of my joints, general debility, emaciation, falling out of my hair, sore throat and great nervousness. I became incredulous, but being told that B. B. B. was a sure enough blood purifier and that it did not require a patent to use a gross before he was cured, I commenced its use. Within two weeks' time I felt improved. I have taken about ten bottles and feel as well and sprightly as any man. My appetite and strength have returned and my hair does not fall out. I do not hesitate to say that B. B. B. has no equal as a general blood purifier, and any one will use only one bottle will be convinced that it has no equal in these parts. I still continue its use, as it is a splendid tonic and keeps my system in a fine condition. You have the liberty to direct any sufferer to me in person.
